EVA “ I studied English at school during 4 years, after this I did several courses about it, and now I have private lessons with a personal teacher. I am not studying for an exam only for my own purposes. My level is upper-intermediate. During my stay I think I would like to focus on what it would be most practical for me (financial English). At work I need to attend regular meetings with colleagues in the USA and Britain. At the moment I am experiencing some hardship understanding people and making myself understood, so a course based on these needs would be most helpful for me, concentrate on listening, speaking and financial corporate English. I spent only 2 weeks in August in London and another week in October. I have not too many hobbies because I have not enough free time, but I like relaxing, walking in the countryside, especially in Autumn, reading, the cinema, the theatre, music, dancing, cooking, trying new tastes and knowing the food culture of the places that I visit. I like to know things about our past too: ancient traditions, antiques, old houses and its conservation and restorations, and the history in general. I like socialising and meeting new people, and surprising myself each day learning and experiencing new things” EVA is financial director of a software company.
